FACT SHEET

Description:

Situated in the heart of Palm Beach, Echo provides a thrilling showcase for spectacular Asian cuisine in a sleek, stylish setting. Guests experience a one-of-a-kind, culinary-cultural experience as they explore the distinctive cuisines and flavors of China, Thailand, Japan, and Vietnam. Echo chefs create a feast for the senses, to savor the exotic herbs, spices, seafood, produce and cooking techniques associated with each of these varied cultures. Sushi chefs display their talents as they work in full view at a "theater-style" sushi bar.

Guests may choose an appetizer and main course selection, perhaps mixing and matching from different themed segments of the menu, or groups may opt to share any number of "small plate" selections. Echo does not blur the lines between the various Asian cuisines by offering trendy fusion dishes. Instead, the restaurant celebrates and respects the distinctive flavors and heritage of China, Thailand, Japan, and Vietnam by offering each culture's traditional specialties.

Dragonfly Lounge:

Diners can start their evening at The Dragonfly Lounge, highlighted by a dramatic, highly polished bar that extends the full length of one side of the restaurant. The Lounge offers an array of creative cocktails, fine sake, a selection of domestic and imported beers, or guests may choose from an impressive wine list, carefully compiled to complement Echo's Asian cuisine with its many selections from boutique wineries. Since the restaurant's opening in 2000, the Lounge continues to provide a dynamic backdrop for a high-energy social scene.

Cuisine:

The menu takes an extraordinarily creative approach. Specialties are categorized according to the Five Elements: Wind (small plates to begin the journey); Fire (from the wok); Water (seafood and shellfish); Earth (meat, game, and poultry); and Flavor (desserts and sweets).

Interior Design: Throughout the 4,700 square foot restaurant and bar, there are rich, vivid hues evident in striking lighting fixtures, richly textured fabrics, dramatic glassware, accent pieces, and furnishings. Sleek metallic menu backs and stainless steel chopsticks add a chic, minimalist edge to the ambience.

Evocative, contemporary artwork adorns the walls, providing a soothing foil to the trendsetting style of the restaurant and lounge. The decor offers the perfect “yin and yang” balance of tranquility and energy in the dining spaces.
